

Invertebrate classification

Ecosystems

Animals with no backbone are called invertebrates

Match each invertebrate to its classification.

Mollusks soft body with a shell Arthropods exoskelton and jointed legs Annelids (worms) long, segmented body Cnidaria live in water, have stinging cells Echinoderms live in water, radial symmetry, have spines or spiny skin Porifera spongy, live in water sea sponge jellyfish

 snail cricket earthworm
 sea star